If you need me to help let me know!

I like the way direction was given this morning and that is exactly what is required!

Kick ass if need be as you know where we need to be and that is exactly the direction required not only on this issue but all.

It is time the Corporation is managed as staff have been doing what ever but now clear concise direction will prevail.

Glad to see someone finally steering the ship.

CAO don't make friends of staff they give direction to staff and that has been lacking for a long time.

Rick
