Subject: Solar Powered Attic Vent Program on Collus Power web page

Hey Paul.....I noticed that Collus Power has a rotating banner on their website's home page featuring the solar powered attic vent project and linking it to a web page which has additional information on the program. This is terrific but could we get some mention on the web page about the five utilities participating in this project. This would assist us in building our profile in Simcoe County and facilitate getting Collus Power customers more familiar with the PowerStream brand.

Just my thoughts.
